DEDICATION

Throughout our years in High School, much planning and organization has been done for the success of our class activities. Although we did have student support, our success could not have been possible without the help of our advisor.

So in recognition for all the time and effort she has dedicated to us, the Class of 1982 would like to dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Nancy Sawyer.

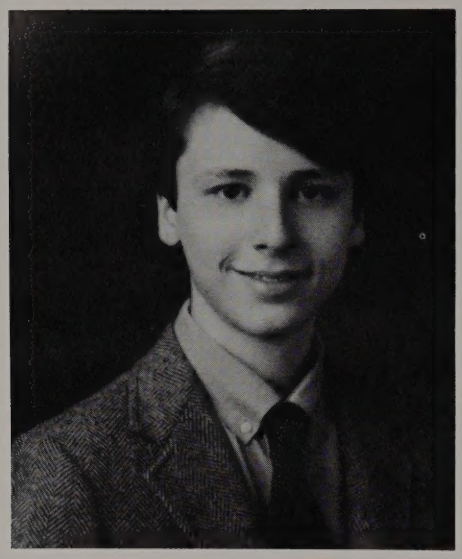
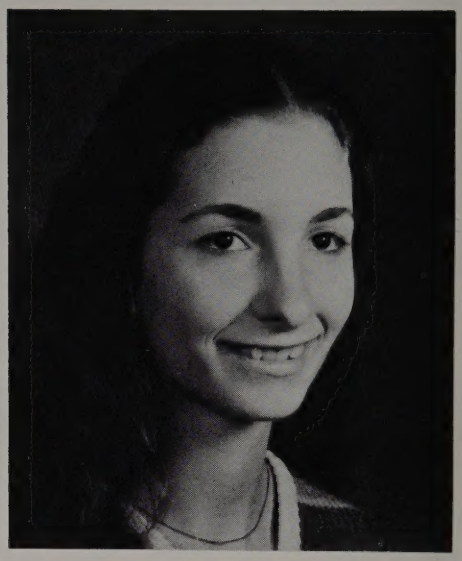
TANTASQUA SCHOLARS



Martin Allen



Joanne Normandin

With this edition of the TANTASQUAN a new and vitally important aspect of school life is to be recognized. Through the years the records of the various groups, whether social, athletic or academic have been offered for your acceptance and adulation. We, the staff, have long felt that superior individual academic achievement should not go unnoticed in any publication which attempts to record a particular school year. The yearbook staff feels that these students who have considered academic excellence the raison d'etre for the high school experience, and have performed at a consistently high level in these areas, should at least be accorded the same exposure as some of their fellow students. And this is as it should be, if we keep in mind the primary function of any school, no matter its emphasis. Schools are created to further the learning experience of all those who pass through its portals. To what degree this opportunity is utilized is as divergent as the number of people who attend schools. It is those individuals who take full advantage of this precious opportunity and who wrest from this experience what it has to offer that we honor here.

The two students depicted on this page and honored in these words are merely representative of the many who have achieved academically in this school, in this year. They were chosen by the staff using the criteria of class rank exclusively. Obviously this cannot be the definitive method of recognition, but in the interest of economy and equality, we have chosen one boy and girl to represent all of you Tantasqua scholars.

We do, therefore, congratulate these people and pay homage to their very significant academic success. For consistent achievement in any area of human endeavor is to be respected; but in the field of human knowledge it is also to be most highly esteemed. Again, congratulations and felicitations to you all!

LAD AND LASS

Little children once so small
They have grown, one and all.

Little lad all rough and ready
Not too old to forget his teddy,
Plays as astronauts and firemen
Dreams to be like one of them.

Little lass all dressed in lace
That little lads tease and chase,
Plays with dolls and to them sings
Dressing up with mommy's things.

Take a look and now you'll see Those lads and lasses, they, are we.

Fall came and we were brought together
Entering the ominous building
In stiff new clothes and bright, white sneakers Hiding our lack of confidence behind the task of finding classrooms
And making new friends Winter came and we were together
Familiar with the old routine
Passing self-assured through the maze
In well-worn shoes and faded jeans
Laughing and smiling at friendly faces
We knew we belonged
Spring is here
And we are together
Tiring of the old procedure taking final walks through these corridors
Their walls holding our laughter and smiles to be kept sacred like so many before us
Comfortable, yet impatient with the schedule
We eagerly await a new future
A long and twisted path that our soles and souls will trudge upon
Carrying us forward
While we look back
At the memories held here.
Spring has come.

Dedication

Mr. Timothy Gilrein

We would like to thank Mr. Gilrein for all his time, effort, and his patience, for dedicating his attention to us. He has helped us get where we are today. If it wasn't for Mr. G. we would never have seen our senior year, which is the most precious and very special year of high school. We give great appreciation to this fabulous teacher. He really has what it takes to be caring, responsible, and successful. We can't thank you enough, Mr. G., but THANKS

Marie, Renee, Debby, & Johnna

One Scholarship is given to a member in good standing, and one is awarded to a student not in the Society. SPIRIT WEEK

The Spirit Week Committee, headed by Laurie LaFleche, conducted an outstanding four days geared to elevating Tantasqua Spirit through a multitude of activities based on class participation and culminating in a homecoming celebration and dance. All classes exhibited an extraordinary amount of spirit in their drive for the title, won by the class of 82 with a 4100 lead over the class of 83. A big thanks to all who contributed to the best week of the year.

The yearbook staff is comprised of a group of students who concentrate their extra-curricular time and talent in an effort to compile a collection of those school events which go to make up a school year. This yearbook called Tantasquan attempts to include all facets of student, faculty, administration and staff life during this all too brief period of a school year. This book ranges from sports and student activities to a section devoted exclusively to the seniors. It also includes the underclassmen, the faculty, the administration and must include an advertisement section without which the yearbook could not function. The yearbook is a memory book which will most assuredly bring back a feeling of nostalgia in the not too distant future.
